3. Name of the register

Partner register

4. Purpose of use of personal data

Personal data is used for communication and sharing information between PSOAS and their stakeholders.

5. Data content of the register

The register contains data necessary for the purpose of use of personal data, such as:

- name information
- title/position
- employer
- contact information (mailing address, phone number, e-mail address)

Any data recorded in the register is removed as soon as the basis for their storage in accordance with the purpose of use becomes void, unless the data controller is under obligation due to law or other authoritative regulation to store the data.

6. Regular data sources

The data are collected from the data subjects themselves (in the context of e.g. meetings or other communications). Data can also be collected from outside sources such as newspapers and other publications, generally available internet and other sources, and registers controlled by outside service providers.

7. Release and transfer of data

No data is released outside PSOAS or transferred outside the European Union or the European Economic Area.

8. Data protection

Any electronically processed data in the register are protected with firewalls, passwords and other necessary technical means generally accepted within the data security field at the time.

Any manually maintained data are located in spaces with restricted access for outsiders.

Any data in the register is only accessible by designated employees of the data controller and companies working for and on behalf of the data controller, who have signed a confidentiality agreement, with an individual access right granted by the data controller.

9. Right to access, restriction and rectification

The data subject has the right to inspect which data concerning them has been recorded in the register.

The data access request should be sent to the data processor and it must be written and signed. The data access request can also be made in person in the presence of the data controller.

The data subject has the right to deny the processing and release of any data concerning them for direct mail, distant selling or other direct marketing purposes as well as for market and opinion surveys by contacting the data controller.

The data subject has the right to demand the rectification of incorrect data by contacting the data controller.
